

"RIDING THE TRAIN", an end-of-the-year activity for primary school children, has come to a close. For many years primary school children in most of the Saline county schools have looked forward with eagerness to a train ride, usually from Eldorado to Harrisburg. With the NYC closing its train service Saturday morning, May 4, this will no longer be possible. One of the last groups to enjoy the treat of riding on the train was the first three grades of West Leflore school, making the trip Thursday morning. Pupils, with their teacher, Mrs. Jessie Ragan, were: first grade, Larry Kassner, Mary Annis, Louise Annis, Evette Jenkins, Stevie Carter, Donald Baker; second grade, Lola Hurd, Ruthie Potts, Jennie Shelton, Leta Sperling, Mike Vargo, Gary Elliott; third grade, Darlene Diefenbach, Lonnie Potts, David Annis, Larry Maxfield, Jackie Hurd, Deanna Maddox, Carolyn Carter. Earl Helm, Retired Druggist of Shawneetown, Dies

Earl Helm, 70, retired druggist of Shawneetown, died at the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado early Thursday evening. The body is in the care of the Wright funeral home and will lie in state there until the funeral at 2 p. m. Sunday. Rev. Edward Miner will conduct the funeral in the Emmanuel Methodist church, where Mr. Helm was a member for many years. Burial will be in the Elmwood cemetery near Equality.

Mr. Helm is survived by his wife, Angia, and two stepdaughters, Mrs. James Palmer of Marion and Mrs. Edsel Morning of Indianapolis, Ind. Mrs. E. J. Burke, his niece, was raised in the Helm home from infancy and is a resident of Tiburon, Calif. His sister is Mrs. Cleone Folis of Chicago and Charles Wright, Harrisburg pharmacist, is his nephew.

Mr. Helm was active in business in Shawneetown from 1929 until his retirement in June of last year. He has many friends and associates throughout southern Illinois.

Four Indiana Ex-Highway Officials Indicted

INDIANAPOLIS — Prosecutor John Tindler today vowed a "vigorous" court fight to jail former Highway Chairman Virgil Smith and three associates indicted in Indiana's highway scandal. Smith, who surrendered late Thursday to post bond, said only: "I'll wait for the court." His attorney, Frank Symmes, said, "He's innocent, and that's all there is to it."

A Marion County grand jury charged Smith and his ex-right-of-way chief, Nile Teverbaugh, with embezzlement of public funds and conspiracy to steal and embezzle.

The jury also indicted Harry Doggett of Greensburg, who was Teverbaugh's chief assistant, and Robert A. Peak, a Milan attorney and business associate of Smith. Doggett was a close friend of former Gov. George Craig, in whose administration the questionable land-buying deals occurred on the Madison Avenue Expressway route in Indianapolis.

He and Peak were accused of conspiracy to commit grand larceny and embezzlement. Peak also was charged with falsifying the signature of "Dean Burton" as a buyer of two back lots which brought original owners $2,500 and were sold to the state for $25,800.

Tindler also said that Teverbaugh and the mysterious "Burton" were the same person. That suspicion was voiced ever since it was learned Teverbaugh has a 7-year-old grandson named Kerry Dean Burton. In Washington, Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) asked the Bureau of Public Roads to call for an FBI investigation of "misuse of public funds" in the Highway Department.

Former Creal Springs Man Dies at Marion

John Anderson Butts, 82, resident of Creal Springs until recently, died at the Marion Memorial hospital in Marion at 7 p. m. Thursday. He had recently gone to live with his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Mills of 2105 Copeland street, Marion. In addition to his daughter, Mrs. Mills, he is survived by his son, Arlie Butts of Centralia.

Funeral plans have not been completed.

Attempted Killing

Bullet by Would-Be Assassin Only Creases
Scalp of Gambler Costello; Gunman Seen

NEW YORK — Gambler Frank Costello, nursing a minor scalp wound, owed his life today to a would-be assassin's poor aim.

Costello's luck, which hasn't been so good since he was the reluctant star witness of the Senate Crime Investigating Subcommittee in 1951, held fast Thursday night and a bullet fired by a gunman at his home only creased his scalp. He walked out of the hospital only a few hours later.

The 66-year-old gambler apparently was the mark for a well-planned gangland assassination. He was shot in the back of the head as he entered the lobby of the plush apartment building where he lives.

House Groups Reject Pleas By Eisenhower

By United Press
President Eisenhower suffered a double defeat in the House today. The Appropriations Committee voted 19-14 to deny his request for 50 million dollars to start a new federal program of flood insurance. And the Agriculture Committee turned down his plea for authority to barter surplus farm products to Soviet satellite nations.

The appropriations group, meeting behind closed doors, affirmed findings by a subcommittee that the administration's flood insurance program was "too indefinite and costly."

It recommended that the flood indemnity agency use $325,000 already on hand to develop a "more workable" plan.

The action was taken in approving a $79,840,788 supplemental money bill to finance a variety of government agencies and functions for the rest of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The Agriculture Committee approved a bill to extend until June 30, 1958, the administration's $1,300,000,000 program for disposing of surplus foods abroad.

But it eliminated a provision asked by Eisenhower to authorize barter of some of the foodstuffs behind the Iron Curtain.

The Senate has passed such a bill. Committee Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) said a compromise might be negotiated to permit bartering with all Communist countries except Russia, Red China, Outer Mongolia, North Viet Nam and North Korea.

Other congressional news:
Rackets: The Senate Rackets Committee received a telegram from President David J. McDonald of the United Steel Workers advising that his union would "cooperate fully. His telegram said "there is no corruption in our union" and its officers have "nothing to hide."

Poultry: The House Agriculture Committee approved a bill making mandatory federal inspection of all poultry which is shipped across state lines. The controls would be similar to those in effect in meat packing for the past 51 years.

Mrs. W. E. Smith
Of Ridgway Dies
After Long Illness

Mrs. W. E. Smith, 68, Ridgway, died at her home at 4 a. m. today following an illness of three years. She had been bedfast since the first of the year.

Survivors include her husband, who operates a television and radio appliance store in Ridgway; two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Turner of Eldorado, staff nurse in the Egyptian Health department in Harrisburg, and Mrs. Adriel Williams of near Ridgway; and two sons, Clarence E. Smith, U. S. Army, retired, of Dent, Minn., and Russell Dale Smith, U. S. Navy, retired, of Whittier, Calif.

She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Kelly Trail of Eldorado, Mrs. Max Duvall of Omaha and Mrs. Iona Satterfield of Shawneetown; and two brothers, Herman Brown of Ridgway and Otto Brown of Pontiac, Mich., and six grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Cox funeral home in Ridgway. The funeral will be at Ridgway Baptist church, probably Sunday. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

Recover Body of Boy, Find 3 Men Clinging to Boat

BROWNING, Ill. — Search crews Thursday night recovered the body of a year-old boy from the rain-swollen Illinois River here, and in their search discovered three men clinging to an overturned boat.

The boy, Bobby Struble, had apparently fallen into the river near his home, but the searchers did not know the three fishermen were in trouble on the river.

The boy's body was discovered by a Pittsfield search team near the home from which the boy had been swept by the river.

He apparently had been placed by his mother on the enclosed porch of the Struble home to play. Somehow, the door was opened and the boy was carried away by the river that surrounded the home.

Some 40 men and boats from Havana, Macomb, Rushville and Beardstown began searching Thursday morning.

While the search parties looked for the boy, they rescued three fishermen who had been in the raging waters for more than eight hours. The three, Harry Hamm, Peoria, and Bob Hamm and Stanley Briney, Browning, had been fishing on Stewart Lake near Bath when their overloaded boat capsized.

Little Change in Mail Service for Gallatin County

There will be little change in the mail service into Gallatin county as a result of the removal of the New York Central passenger train and the installation of the new Highway Post Office, which will go into operation Monday morning.

The mail, which has been leaving Eldorado for Ridgway, Equality, Shawneetown and Junction by truck will leave Eldorado shortly after 9 a. m., Eldorado Postmaster G. R. Gampfer announced.

He said the mail will depart immediately after the Benton star route truck arrives in Eldorado. If anything, Mr. Gampfer said, the service into Gallatin county should be better as the truck will be able to leave at about the same time each morning. The Highway Post Office vehicle will arrive in Eldorado at 7:30 a. m. daily, Monday through Saturday.

Dr. Charles Elder of Eldorado, dentist on the Egyptian Health Department staff, suffered a heart attack at 2 a. m. Thursday and was taken to the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado, where he remains a patient.

Body Will Be Taken to Appleton, Wis.; Death Caused By Liver Malady

WASHINGTON — Funeral services for Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy will be held at 10 a. m., c.d.t. Monday in the Senate chamber where he rose to fame and later was condemned by his colleagues.

The Senate services will be preceded by Catholic Mass at 8 a. m. c.d.t. at St. Matthews Cathedral, where McCarthy was married in 1953.

The Senate will meet briefly Monday and adjourn out of respect for McCarthy.

A committee of senators will accompany the body from the Senate chamber to Appleton, Wis., leaving at 1 p. m. Monday.

Burial will be in Appleton at noon Tuesday.

The decision to conduct the services in the Senate chamber was announced after Senate leaders conferred with Mrs. McCarthy.

McCarthy's body will lie in state from 5 p. m. Friday through Sunday at the funeral home of Joseph Gawler's Sons Inc., 1756 Pennsylvania Ave., N. W., near the White House.

In the Senate, McCarthy's body will lie before the rostrum. Services of about half an hour will be conducted by a Catholic clergyman and the Senate chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, pastor emeritus of Foundry Methodist Church.

In Appleton, McCarthy's body will lie in state Monday evening and Tuesday morning in St. Mary's Church where the Tuesday services will be held at noon. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery in Appleton.

The Wisconsin Republican died at Bethesda Naval Hospital late Thursday of a little understood liver malady called "acute hepatitis." The immediate cause of death was "acute hepatic failure"—failure of the liver to go on working.

Entered Hospital Sunday

Death came to the controversial senator, who made hosts of enemies and friends with his attacks on alleged Communists in government, with a suddenness that shocked the capital.

He had been ill for a number of weeks but did not enter the hospital until last Sunday. The hospital said he was "seriously" ill, but never publicly put him on the "critical" list.

McCarthy's malady was not so-called infectious hepatitis, a virus-caused disease. Medical authorities said McCarthy's ailment, acute hepatitis, is organic and is not caused by any external agent.

Mrs. McCarthy did not authorize an autopsy, and there will be none. Had Many Illnesses

Mrs. McCarthy, who was a member of McCarthy's staff before their marriage, was at her husband's side in his final moments. He was given the last rites of his Roman Catholic faith an hour before his death by Cmdr. Gabriel J. Naughten, Catholic chaplain at the hospital.

About two hours after the senator's death, Mrs. McCarthy left the hospital with her close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Tankersley. Messages of condolence poured in to McCarthy's widow.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower and former President Truman voiced their sorrow, though the President and former President had been targets of his attacks. Others who had been his enemies in life availed themselves of the rule—say nothing ill of the dead.

McCarthy, despite his great vigor, had suffered many illnesses in recent years. A World War II knee injury caused him much trouble. As a Marine, he served as

Divided Nation

Senator McCarthy—Ruthless in Politics, Friendly in Personal Life

WASHINGTON — One day in 1950, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy stepped into an elevator at the Capitol and found himself face-to-face with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

For weeks McCarthy had been charging on the Senate floor that Acheson had allowed Communists to overrun the State Department. He had come very close to accusing Acheson of treason. This was the first time the two men had ever met.

Before Acheson had a chance to turn away, McCarthy smiled broadly and held out his hand. "How do you do," he said, without a trace of hostility or embarrassment. "I'm Joe McCarthy."

In this story, if anywhere, may be found the answer to a question which Americans have been hotly debating for the past seven years... and which historians are likely to go on debating for centuries. What kind of a man was Joe McCarthy?

He was a man who could be utterly ruthless in political combat... and as friendly as a puppy in personal relations.

He was a man who convinced millions of Americans that he was passionately sincere in his fight against Communist "infiltration"... and other millions that he was a liar and a demagogue who cynically manipulated the public's fear of communism to gain power for himself.

He was a bull-shouldered brawler who learned from a boyhood mentor named "Indian Charlie" that a quick knee to the groin was the safest way to greet an advancing stranger... and he was a big jovial man whom children of all ages adored.

He was a man who by the sheer, raw power of his personality and the fierce drive of his ambition divided America as it has rarely divided in its history... and left as a legacy his name embodied in anism.

Death, even at the early age of 47, was an anti-climax to Joe McCarthy's tumultuous career.

His place in history, as the most controversial public figure of his day, will be based almost entirely on a four-year span of his life which began in 1950 with his sensational attack on the State Department, and ended in 1954, when the Senate voted 67-22 to condemn his actions.

He was the fourth senator in all U. S. history to be thus censured by his peers, and not even the drive of a McCarthy could surmount the handicap. During the last three years of his life, he sank back into the relative obscurity from which he had skyrocketed overnight on Feb. 9, 1950.

Sunday Auto Tour To Visit Indian Art Gallery

The auto tour leaving Illinois Central passenger depot parking lot in Carbondale at 9:30 a. m. Sunday, May 5, is to visit one of the Midwest's most interesting Indian art galleries.

Location of this highly interesting spot is on the west side of Fountain Bluff north of Grand Tower. It was discovered recently by Irvin Peithman and associates and contains scores of drawings cut into the stone cliff.

These Sunday tours are directed by the Explorer's club of Du Quoin. Everyone is invited and there are no charges. Each should take lunch and drinking water. The little-known and interesting Roaring Springs in Union county are also to be visited.

These tours are for the purpose of acquainting people with out-of-the-way interesting spots in southern Illinois. This one will be directed by Wayman Presley of Makanda, founder and president of the club. A worship period will be held following lunch.

Beck Fills Bond on Tax Evasion Charge

Teamster Official Indicted for Evading $56,420 in Federal Taxes

WASHINGTON — Teamster President Dave Beck surrendered voluntarily to the U. S. marshal today and posted $5,000 bond on federal income tax evasion charges.

Beck was indicted Thursday in Tacoma, Wash., on charges of evading payment of $56,420 due in federal taxes for 1950.

Beck and his attorney, Gerard Treanor of Washington, appeared briefly before Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran here this morning. Then they went to the clerk's office, where Treanor posted a cashier's check from the American Security and Trust Co.

The bond is for Beck's appearance either here or in Tacoma.

Curran set the bond in place of U. S. Commissioner James F. Splain, who is ill.

In answer to reporters' questions as to what was going on, Beck said:

"I wouldn't say one word about it because I don't know no more about it than you do now."

Beck already is in trouble with the Senate Rackets Committee and AFL-CIO officials on charges that he converted Teamster Union funds to his own use.

He is scheduled to answer charges Monday before the AFL-CIO Executive Committee that his giant union is dominated by corrupt influences.

Also Face Theft Charges

On Wednesday, the Senate Rackets Committee will resume its investigation into charges that Beck used $320,000 in union funds for his own benefit. Committee Counsel Robert Kennedy said recently he felt the committee could prove Beck "stole" the funds.

The indictment was handed down after "intensive investigations" of Beck's 1950 income tax returns, the Justice Department said in Washington.

The Justice Department said the return showed a net income of $46,398 and tax due of $15,540 for 1950. But the Department said Beck's net income for that year actually was $135,226 on which the correct tax would have been $71,960—$56,420 more than was paid.

The second count of the indictment charges Beck with aiding in the preparation of a fraudulent information return from the Joint Council Building Assn., a Teamsters Union real estate company. Indictment Expected Beck cited possible income tax charges in refusing to answer questions before the Senate committee last month. His attorney said at this time that an indictment was expected.

The two-count indictment marked the "culmination of intensive investigations" begun early in 1954 by the Internal Revenue Service and followed by a review of the evidence by justice investigators, the Justice Department said.

Each of the two charges carries a possible maximum sentence of five years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 or both upon conviction.

Wilson Blasts C-C Remarks About Budget

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has come a long way in his thinking about government spending since he quit being a captain of industry and joined the cabinet.

In just about the only display of anger he has shown newsmen in almost 4½ years here, Wilson blurted out Thursday that his rich business friends give him a "pain" with their squawks about the big federal budget. The millionaire ex-president of the giant General Motors Corp. said he was "disgusted."

Wilson's heated remarks were aimed at the U. S. Chamber of Commerce which claims there is wasteful duplication and inefficiency in military supply programs.

"My friends in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce," Wilson said, "—they represent some of the richest people in this country and they have never been more prosperous and for them to squawk so much about the budge gives me a pain."

Wilson's vigorous defense of increasing military outlays seemed to contrast with the theme he reiterated in his first months in office in 1953 when he got a reputation for swinging an economy ax.

Look Out, Bosses!

For all those wives of men in business and government who share their husbands' fears of "the boss," Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, wife of the Secretary of Defense, showed the way toward a kind of partial emancipation.

When President Eisenhower rebuked Wilson for criticizing the National Guard, Mrs. Wilson sprang to the secretary's defense and barked: "Uncalled for." Feminine backbones stiffened all across the nation.

Now she has had her reward.
The Women's National Press Club has saluted her as "the spunkiest woman of the year."

Since the boss in this case is the President of the United States, what Mrs. Wilson said indeed took nerve.

Celebrating her spunk may serve to give the ladies another shot in the arm. In fact, if enough is made of a woman successfully talking back to her husband's boss, the idea may spread to the men themselves.

Listen closely. All that stern talk in the front office may not be coming from just one side of the boss' desk.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Uncle Sam Foots Huge Bill To Glamorize Fish-Wildlife Quarters; Scandal Magazine Faces Showdown On West Coast; Secret
State Dept. Report Blames Reds For Midwest Riots.

WASHINGTON.—It won't please congressional economizers, but the Interior Department has just shelled out $8,287.33 to redecorate plush new offices for top Fish and Wildlife officials. This includes $540.98 for an oriental rug that the new commissioner, Arnie Suo-mela didn't even want.

The department blames the expenditure on Congress for elevating the Fish and Wildlife Service to a full-fledged branch. Under bureaucratic protocol, this higher status entitled the officials to fan-cier offices.

The most dazzling office was prepared for Fish and Wildlife boss Ross Leffler, who now has the rank of an assistant secretary.
This makes him eligible for extra thick carpeting, heavier drapes, and other suitable trimmings.

It cost the taxpayers $8,286.08 to fix up Leffler's office in the style fitting his new rank. This included $2,320.29 for scarlet-colored carpeting and oriental rugs;
$766.25 for scarlet-colored drapes;
$1,135.60 for two electric typewriters; and $1,130.37 for Leffler's desk and office chairs. The fancy fixtures were ordered by Interior, incidentally, before Leffler took over.

The second-ranking Fish and Wildlife official, Commissioner Suomela, tried to hold down redecorating expenses in his office. He insisted, for example, on keeping the same furniture used by his predecessor. Yet the department still managed to spend $2,234.23 on improvements, including $540.98 for an oriental rug that he didn't want. The new rug arrived anyway over his protests.

Interior spent another $27,796.93 to carve out and furnish suites for the directors of two new bureaus—commercial fisheries, and sport fisheries and wildlife. An estimated $16,510 went for partitions and spacious tiled lavatories.
Furnishings cost $11,286.93, including $4,008.14 for "carpeting alone."

This is an example of how one government department practices the economy that President Eisenhower preaches.

Note—Congress voted Fish and Wildlife its higher status following cries from commercial fishing interests that they were losing business to foreign competitors. The industry demanded more influence inside the government, so Congress created the new post of assistant secretary for fish and wildlife.

SHOWDOWN FOR
"CONFIDENTIAL"

Confidentially, it looks as if the scandal magazine "Confidential" might be close to the end of the road in California—and later elsewhere in the nation.

Attorney General Pat Brown of California is hauling both publisher Robert Harrison and the printers of Confidential into court in Los Angeles May 14 with a double-barreled attack for publishing obscene matter and for criminal libel.

Brown, a deeply religious public official, contends that the scandal sheet has caused divorces and broken homes, and leads to blackmail. He has cases in which blackmailers have shaken down prominent people on the threat of "telling Confidential."

Harrison got shot while in the Dominican Republic last year, by Richard Weldy, ex-husband of Pilar Palette, who had once been written up in Confidential. Harrison recovered. Pilar's present husband, John Wayne, remarked:
"I wish Weldy'd been a better shot."

Brown has canvassed various glamor names written up in Confidential, inviting them to be witnesses. One was Elvis Presley, who is the subject of a confession story by one of his girl friends in the current issue of Confidential.

Already Brown has had overtures from representatives of Confidential indicating they are ready to call it quits and stay out of California. This would set a pattern for other states.

RED TROUBLEMAKERS

This bluntly charges that Arab Reds are acting "on orders from Moscow" to foment riots and disturbances. Their aim, claims the report is "to effect anti-Western alliances."

The report has important bearing on trouble in Jordan and the question of whether the Eisenhower Doctrine against Communist penetration of the Near East should be invoked.

"Soviet clandestine operations in the Middle East are concentrated mainly in Syria and Lebanon," the secret report states,
"where a network of Communist espionage, subversion, and other 'fifth column' activities extends from Damascus and Beirut to Aleppo, Homs-Hama, and other centers in the eastern Mediterranean area."

"The most noted Communist in the Middle East is Khalid Bik-dash, a Moscow-trained Syrian Kurd, who became the first ac-knowledgeed Communist to be elected to the Syrian parliament
... (But) the main center of Soviet undercover subversive activities in the Middle East is the Beirut headquarters of the Lebanon Communist party ...

"The LCP Central Committee has been headed by Mustafa Al-Ariss, but the Communist parties of Syria and Lebanon are governed by a joint central command under Khalid Bikdash. However, Soviet intrigues and subversion in the Middle East are directed by a secret MVD official holding a Soviet diplomatic post in Beirut.
This comes from Turkish sources."

Summarizing Red strategy in the Middle East, the report claims:

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Courtney of Galatia Observe Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Courtney

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Courtney of Galatia were agreeably surprised with an open house in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday beginning at 2 p. m. Mr. Courtney has owned and operated the Courtney funeral home there for the past 29 years.

Plans for the occasion were made by Mrs. Courtney's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bona Jr. and family, assisted by the Courtney children, James and Carolyn, along with friends and neighbors. The reception was held at the Galatia American Legion home which was beautifully decorated with large floral arrangements presented by various florists and funeral supply establishments which serve the funeral home.

A long white table extended across the room, centered with a large floral arrangement of white snapdragons and pink roses, and a huge cake appropriately decorated by the Pankey Bros. Bakery of Harrisburg, flanked on either side by a punch bowl, cups, silver and napkins. Numerous other cakes served were baked by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, of which all the family are members, and the Galatia Home Bureau unit, of which Mrs. Courtney is a member. Many beautiful and useful gifts of silver were presented along with congratulations and best wishes of those attending. Gifts, cards, letters and telegrams came from many who could not be present.

Mrs. Courtney was presented with an orchid corsage by her husband and one of pink carnations by her son, James. Miss Carolyn Courtney gave her father a white carnation for a boutonniere.

Several pictures were taken during the afternoon.

Some of the women aiding Mrs. Bona with the serving were her daughter, Miss Judy Bona, Mrs. Marjorie Shelton, Mrs. Anna Wallace, Mrs. Esie Fletcher of Galatia, Mrs. Madge Shanks of Mattoon and Miss Beverley Takacs of Litchfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to any and all who helped in any way to make this, one of the most cherished events of their lives.

Those attending were:

Mrs. Eugenia Lockwood, Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shanks, Mattoon, Mrs. Maude Harkell, Edwardsville, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morrissey, Du Quoin, Miss Kathleen Smith, Evansville, Ind., Miss Beverley Takacs, Litchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Harbison, Eldorado, Miss Louise Whittington, West Frankfort.

From Harrisburg: Mr. and Mrs. Ural Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Harker Milroy and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reed, Mrs. Paul Showalter, Mrs. Maude Malone and Yvonne.

From Thompsonville: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Steed, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Bunday, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson, Miss Mamie Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Kimmel, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carney and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Dearing.

From Galatia: Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Braden, Earl Doley, Mrs. Stella Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bona and children, Mrs. Bertha Smith, M. G. Gollther, Mrs. Rachel Jones, Mrs. Edna Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams and Jeanne Jo. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Cardwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Flannigan, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bond, Mrs. Esie Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs.

Donald Eugene Hull Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Hey Hull of Harrisburg entertained with a party for Donald Eugene Hull on April 24. Donald left for his army service on Monday and the party was a gathering of many of his friends to wish him well.

Present at the party were Jack Lafayette, Tom Mills, Charlie Puckett, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Puckett, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Seibert, Ona Horten, Irene Langford and son, Roger, Tommy Jones and Kenny Jones of New Haven, Dolores Dunning, Agnes Hull, Phyllis Ann Hull, William Hull, Randall Hull, Raymond Hull, Larey Ferrell, Mr. and Mrs. Hey Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eugene Hull.

Music was presented by Ralph Seibert, Tom Mills, Charlie Puckett, Jack Lafayette and Herman Puckett, with Raymond Hull at the piano.

Refreshments of cup cakes, coffee and Cokes were served.

Home Bureau Unit Holds Coffee

The Harrisburg Home Bureau unit held a coffee in the home of Mrs. Gus Syers at 508 South Granger, from 8 to 9 a. m. Thursday. Coffee and home made cookies were served and the house was decorated with spring flowers.

Those attending were Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. W. F. Applegate, Mrs. A. I. Bair, Mrs. H. O. Buell, Mrs. J. M. Burley, Mrs. W. J. Cooley, Mrs. Louie Gaskins, Mrs. Ed Heister, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. J. P. Mitchell, Mrs. W. R. Pankey, Mrs. Leroy Reese, Mrs. Bert Scribner, Mrs. Clifford Stricklin and Mrs. C. L. Travis.

Two Southern Illinois Musicians to Share Spotlight at Area Music Festival

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Two distinguished Southern Illinois musicians will share the honorary spotlight in "Music Under the Stars," the all Southern Illinois music festival, here the night of May 11.

Featured as "Honored Soloist" in the eighth annual area-wide production at Southern Illinois University's McAndrew Stadium will be Carl Lutes, principal flutist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Scheduled to be recognized with seven other past "Honored Musicians" will be the 1957 choice for the honor, Mrs. Laura Clendenen of Cairo.

Other traditional features of the show will be a cast of more than 3,500 grade school and high school musicians grouped into massed bands, choruses, and baton and dancing units. The performance will begin with a formal flag-raising ceremony at 7:30 p. m. and end with a mammoth fireworks display.

Lutes, a native of Christopher, was graduated from Southern, received a master's degree from Columbia University, and subsequently graduated with honors from the National Conservatory of Music in Paris. Before joining the St. Louis Symphony he appeared as solo flutist with the Longines Symphonette, played as solo obbligatist for Metropolitan Opera Soprano Roberta Peters and toured the U. S. and Canada as a Community Concert series artist.

Mrs. Halliday, whose father was Cairo superintendent of schools for 45 years, began her piano studies at the American Conservatory in Chicago. She played professionally while still going to school and, as an advanced pupil of such masters as Leo Sowerby, Rudolph Ganz, Percy Grainger and Richard Hagemann, supported herself by playing and maintaining a small studio. She now teaches a large piano class and serves as organist-director of the First Presbyterian church choir in Cairo.

Participating schools and supervisors include:

Harrisburg — Miss Ada Cable, Mrs. Vivian Cotton, Mrs. Mary Jarvis, Miss Joan Lawrence, Miss Cecelia Wagner and Mrs. Eulalia.

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tanner, Carmi, a girl named Lynn Ann, born April 25 and weighing eight pounds and 12 ounces. This is their third child. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner, Carrier Mills, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Hatfield, Harrisburg.

Crescent Unit Meets With Mrs. Edgar Price

The Crescent unit of the Saline county Home Bureau met in the home of Mrs. Edgar Price at 7:30 p. m. April 25. The minutes were read and approved and the vice-chairman and treasurer made reports. A committee was chosen to plan the spring luncheon which will be held in the home of Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr. on May 18.

The minor topic consisted of filling out the program interest sheets which help determine the lesson topics for the coming year. Mrs. Roger Taylor presented the major topic, "Canning and Freezing."

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Taylor.

Attending were Mrs. Cecil Harris, Mrs. Robert Pulliam, Mrs. Darrell Piper, Mrs. Eugene Irwin, Mrs. Tom Carpenter, Mrs. C. Wayne Brown, Mrs. Frank Jarrell, Mrs. Roger Taylor, Mrs. Glen Keneipp, Mrs. Gurn Skelley and the hostess.

The handicraft club will meet May 9 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Gurn Skelley.

Area Recreation Leaders Invited To SIU Institute

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois communities have been invited to send recreation leaders to Southern Illinois University's fourth annual Playground Leadership Training Institute June 11-13 at the SIU Camp on Little Grassy Lake.

Purpose of the course is to develop leadership skills in all types of group recreation, according to Dr. William H. Freeberg, chairman of the SIU Recreation and Outdoor Education Department.

The program is designed to benefit experienced recreation directors as well as beginners Freeberg said. Persons expected to enroll include professional recreation leaders, park and playground personnel, Scout leaders, YMCA and YWCA directors, rural youth leaders, and church youth directors.

Instruction will be offered in day camp organization, camp fire ceremonies, supervision techniques, dramatics and story telling, arts and crafts, safety and first aid, and records and reports.

Howard Tanner of Waupun, Wis., one of the nation's leading handicraft experts, will conduct arts and crafts sessions. Dr. Clyde Brown, SIU associate professor of education, will teach day camp program, and Robert Franz, camp swimming director, will demonstrate waterfront safety techniques.

University students also will attend the institute, which offers two quarter hours of college credit. Cost of attending the institute on a noncredit basis, including meals, is $15.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Dr. Freeberg at the University.

Eighth Grade Girls Guests at Style Show by Homemaking Dep't

Eighth grade girls from the Carrier Mills, Stonefort and Lakeview grade schools were special guests at the third annual style show and tea sponsored by members of the Homemaking Department of the Carrier Mills Community high school this week. Mothers of the Homemaking girls also were specially invited guests.

Girls in Homemaking I, II, III, Future Homemakers of America, under the direction of Mrs. Harold James, home economics instructor at CMCHS, presented a revue of clothing made during the present school year. Theme of the show was Teenage Clothes for the Occasion—school, picnic, street, lounging, cooking, casual, church, party. Judy Brewer was narrator.

Also on the program was an explanation of FHA, introduction of FHA officers and the FHA symbol ceremony. Beverly Parks was in charge of this part of the program. Several skits were presented by the girls using the theme "How Not To Get Along in School" a take off on students' manners around the school.

The program closed with the serving of tea.

Homemaking girls participating in the style show: Carolyn Wyatt, Dolores Brothers, Ruth Murphy, Phyllis Elms, Sandra Carner, Rosemary Warren, Mary Ann Smith, Marie Overstreet, Shirley Dowdy, Barbara Blackman;

Carolyn McSparrin, Pat Dunn, Sandra Sue Moore, Linda Hill, Edna Williams, Rita Richerson, Margaret Cowger, Rose Mae Martin, Mildred Blackman;

Sharon Hooven, Lenora Martin, Shirley Williams, Aundria Lyles, Elaine Starkey, Barbara Burnley, Mona Parks, Delice Blake, Beverly Arnold;

Mildred Zimmer, Judy Roberts, Loreale Taylor, Boneva Lanton, Norma Green, Geraldine Fitts, Sharon Russell, Mary Ann Craig, Janice Williams, Ruth Craig.

Grade School Student Council Meets Tuesday

The Carrier Mills Grade School Student Council met Tuesday, April 30, at 12:30.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Harold Prather, and the pledge and preamble were recited. The treasurer's report and the secretary's report were also read and approved.

During the new business, a discussion of where they should go on their trip was held. They also discussed the graduation and the merit system.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:00.

Dartmouth College's first varsity football game, in 1881 against Amherst, was played in uniforms borrowed from Princeton.

THE CARRIER MILLS community high school music department, 100 per cent strong, is participating in the state music contest this week end. To aid in raising funds to send the students to the music contest a pre-contest concert and variety show were presented at the high school Tuesday, with the CMCHS students giving the music portion and townspeople putting on the comedy. Approximately $250 was realized from the show. A total of $512 was contributed from various sources—$100 from Music Boosters club, American Legion Post of Stonefort $75, IOOF of Carrier Mills $35 and many other smaller amounts—which will be used for transportation and hotel accommodations for the 85 students. Ten soloists and ensemble participants went to state Thursday afternoon and the others left at noon today for Greenville, site of the contests. Acts in the variety comedy show—upper left, Raymond Rann and Dottie Tanner as "Homer and Jesse"; Freeman Dale Pankey, Ellis Simpson and Bob Whitney as the "McGuire Sisters"; James Thornton as "Mary Martin"; lower left, Irma Jean VanMeter as "Goldie Hill"; Eldon Rice as "Elvis". There was also a dancing chorus of Clyde Durfee, Tommy Gilchrist, Howard Street, Max Rodocker, Harry Yocum, Ben Chaney and Leighman Walker. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

MAN OF THE WEEK In Carrier Mills

By BILL MELTON

James W. "Jim" Hearn is "Mr. Basketball Statistics" in Carrier Mills as he probably sees more games—and beyond a doubt keeps more figures on the games than anyone else in town.

Two seasons ago he hit a high, being official scorer for 118 games and witnessing at least twenty others. This included high and grade school games.

Jim, the man with a ready smile and a big cigar, moved to Carrier Mills in 1931 when he was 12 years of age. The family moved here from Paducah, but in Jim's early years the family had lived in a dozen or more communities as his father was a construction worker with coal companies and moved from town-to-town where there was work to be completed. He was born in Harrisburg, across the street from Horace Mann school, Jan. 20, 1919.

In 1932 Jim graduated from the Carrier Mills grade school and was graduated from the Carrier Mills Community high school in 1936. Work was hard to find in those days so Jim joined the CCC and in the next three years was assigned to many camps in the Illinois and Wisconsin area and attained the grade of company first sergeant.

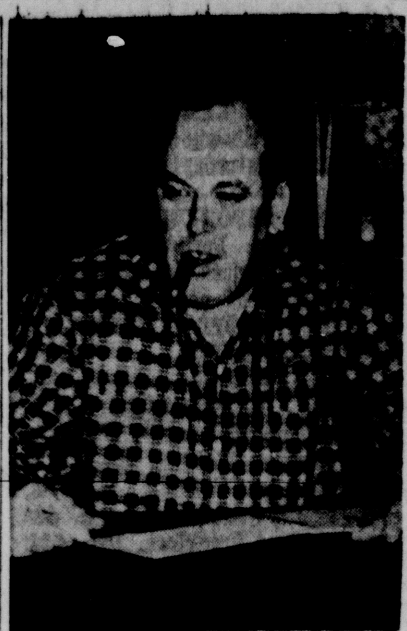

Following discharge from the CCC, Jim went to Pittsburgh and for two years worked as a deck-hand on the Ohio river.

Early in November, 1941, with the war clouds getting bigger and blacker, Jim enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and remained in service until honorably discharged in February, 1946. During that time he was overseas in the Pacific theater of war for three years, taking part in the initial landings at Guam, Bougainville and Iwo Jima with the Third Division, 9th Regiment. He also saw service in New Zealand, Guadalcanal and other Pacific areas. At the time of discharge he held the rank of sergeant.

For the past ten years Jim has been employed by the State of Illinois, Department of Labor, Division of Unemployment Compensation, with the main office in Harrisburg, but working in five counties. He is claims supervisor. He started working at his present job May 5, 1947, and will complete ten years of service real soon.

Jim, who owns his own home at 15 East Furlong, Carrier Mills, has three brothers—Bud Hearn, appliance dealer in Carrier Mills, Emmett, pharmacist in Carmi, and Jack, who resides in California—and one sister, Mrs. James (Faye) Prather, Carrier Mills. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Hearn, live with Jim on Furlong street.

A red-hot sports fan, Jim says he is a year-round fan, interested in whatever athletic event is in season. However, basketball and baseball probably top the list. The Carrier Mills Wildcats and St. Louis Cardinals are his favorite teams. He has seen practically every game—if not all—the Cats have played over the past ten years since he became the team's official score keeper and sees 20 or more of the St. Louis Cardinal home games. He also tries to see the Harlem Globetrotters a couple of times each season and made trips to St. Louis several times the past two years to watch the professional Hawks in cage play.

Jim is a member of the Baptist church, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

New Burnside

By
Mrs. Roy Milburn

Wayne Wyatt, who has been ill for many months, was reported much worse Monday morning. Mr. Wyatt is one of our most respected and beloved citizens.

The last meeting of the Woman's club is to be a May breakfast Friday. Mrs. Earl Keel, Mrs. W. H. Johns, Mrs. T. R. Tanner and Mrs. Paul Morris are the members of the committee in charge of this affair.

A series of meetings beginning Monday, May 6, will be held at Reynoldsburg church. Rev. Lorel Harper will be in charge.

The musical program for the Dewey Simmons fund, which was to be on next Friday evening, has been postponed indefinitely. We urge all of you to contribute to this worthwhile cause.

EXECUTIVE: DOUBLE TAKE! We took a "double exposure" of our subject to illustrate a noteworthy fact: The number of women who reach executive status in banks is almost double the number who do so in the general labor force. Banks are in the forefront of those that recognize the importance of women as key employees—and as customers. Americans, male and female alike, in the banking business are ready and eager to serve the financial needs of American women in all businesses, including that of homemaking.

MUSIC FESTIVAL WELL ATTENDED

The music festival was well attended last Friday night. The stage was beautifully decorated with dogwood and Easter lilies, which were made by the seventh and eighth grades. A white picket fence with honeysuckles entwined made a perfect setting for the program.

The eleven little girls in the first and second grades wore skirts in the festival that they had decorated themselves. The skirts were made of unbleached muslin and decorated with textile colors and pressed with an iron to set the colors. Spools, bottoms of spice cans, vegetable cans and potato prints were used to form the various patterns.

The skirts were made and decorated as a surprise project for the music festival. The boys and girls of the first and second grades had as their part of the program, the Danish Folk Game—A Dance of Greeting.

In the first and second grade room, there is a border made of potato prints and cut paper tulips, which is very attractive. Last week, empty milk cartons and papier mache' were used to make attractive little Easter baskets in art class.

Terry Felty, Phillip Scott, J. E. Joyner and Steven Lay were absent Monday from the third grade. Steven Lay enjoyed an outing down on the Ohio river near Golconda Sunday.

Miss Gurley and family enjoyed picnicking at Giant City park and Crab Orchard lake Sunday.

Mrs. Evelyn Stricklin visited the third and fourth grade room Tuesday.

Mrs. Roma Hill and Mrs. Eva Murphy were presented with gifts by the seventh and eighth grade students Monday for aiding them with their work on the school's yearbook.

Gary Randolph celebrated his 14th birthday Sunday, April 28. The seventh and eighth grades have decided to go to Dixon Springs on their annual picnic.

The eighth grade girls attended a tea and fashion show at the Carrier Mills high school Wednesday afternoon. Those attending were Gaytha Hoover, Patty Chaney, Brenda Murphy, Sharon Murphy and Sherry Bainbridge.

an aerial bombardier for a while in the Pacific. The injury stemmed from that period.

Election For Successor

His death could not affect control of the Senate, which now lies with the Democrats by one vote. Gov. Vernon Thomson of Wisconsin was thought likely to call a special election to fill the vacancy.

His body was taken during the night to the funeral parlors of Joseph Gawler's Sons Inc.—hard by the White House where he seldom was welcome—to await completion of funeral arrangements.

He left a grieving, beautiful young wife of 31 years and an adopted daughter of five months.

He left enemies who at this time chose to follow the example of one of his hardest-hit targets, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson said in Latin: "De mortuis nil nisi bonum."—"Of the dead say nothing but good."

President Extends Sympathy

President Eisenhower, who had trouble with McCarthy almost from the beginning of the GOP president's first term, joined Mrs. Eisenhower Thursday night in sending "profound sympathies to Mrs. McCarthy on the grievous personal loss she has sustained."

Of McCarthy's death, Eisenhower said only that he had "just been informed of his sudden passing."

Former President Truman, whose administration was bitterly attacked by McCarthy, said he was "very sorry" to hear of his death and would send condolences to the family.

"I'm at odds with a lot of people but that doesn't mean I hate them," Truman told reporters. "Let's not dig up a lot of old dead horses."

Adlai Declines Comment
Adlai E. Stevenson, two-time Democratic presidential candidate who also was bitterly attacked by McCarthy, said "I think I'd better not comment."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon called McCarthy a controversial figure who must be evaluated by history but added, "his friends and many of his critics will not question his devotion to what he considered to be the best interests of his country."

A close associate, Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), said America has lost a fighting patriot, a courageous man who has been willing to pay the price for his convictions and for his country.

Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, once told by McCarthy that he was "not fit to wear that uniform," said through an aide in Japan where he is now stationed: "No comment." McCarthy's final Senate fight was a futile effort to block the promotion of Zwicker, a key figure in the Senator's 1954 battle with the Army.

IN THE Service

PVT. CARL DEAN MALLADY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mallady of Galatia RFD 2, has arrived in Korea. Pvt. Mallady received his basic training at Ft. Carson, Colo., and was graduated from the Combat Engineering school at the Army engineering training center at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., on March 15.

Pvt. Mallady is of the fourth generation of the Mallady family to serve in the U. S. armed forces. His father was a World I veteran and his grandfather and great-grandfather served during the Civil War.

Pvt. Mallady entered the service last October and is a graduate of the Galatia Community high school.

Pvt. James L. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oheon Williams, Route 3, Galatia, recently was graduated from the basic Army administration course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Williams received training in typing, Army clerical procedures and record keeping. The 22-year-old soldier was graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1956.

Hillsboro Child Fatally Burned

ST. LOUIS — A 2-year-old Hillsboro, Ill., girl, severely burned in a flash furnace fire at her home late Thursday, died at Jewish Hospital here early today.

She was Connie Eileen Seiver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Seiver. The youngster was burned when the flames suddenly puffed out of the furnace near where she was playing.

The child was taken to Hillsboro Hospital, and later transferred here.

Dick Lehr Named Coach at Fairfield

BRIDGEPORT, Ill. — Dick Lehr, head basketball coach the last five years at Bridgeport High school, has been named head basketball and baseball coach at Fairfield.

Lehr will succeed Don Wood. Wood will continue as head football and track coach.

Miller Quits as Enfield Coach

ENFIELD, Ill. — Kenneth Miller, head coach at Enfield High School the last three years, will be head basketball and football coach at Palestine High School next year.

Miller, a graduate of Central College in Missouri, led his team to a 16-10 record this year, the school's best mark in the last decade.

CORRECTION

The name of Mrs. Madge Johnson was unintentionally omitted from the list of state officers attending the Rebekah district meeting held in Harrisburg, Friday, April 26. Mrs. Johnson is the past president of the Rebekah state assembly and the right supporter of the district president.

Farm Irrigation Clinic to Be Held at Ridgway July 12

The Ridgway Chamber of Commerce will unite with Jones & Son's Farm and Elevator stores, Ridgway, in sponsoring and planning a Farm Irrigation clinic and demonstration to be held on Friday, July 12, at Ridgway high school and at the Lawrence Rollman farm.

Ben Withers, area representative of Olin Mathieson was present at their meeting Thursday night to outline the scope of the meeting expected to be one of the largest held in Illinois, more about which will appear in The Register soon.

The Ridgway Chamber of Commerce also discussed the current street improvement project and plans for 1957 Christmas lighting. T. B. F. Smith, chairman, presided at the meeting, at which Paul Jones was in charge of the program.

Floods Recede in Texas; Cool Air Extends to Kentucky

By United Press
Flood waters receded in Texas today despite continued rains over much of the Gulf region and the southeastern states.

The raging Sabine River sent its flood crest surging toward the small community of Deweyville, Tex., about 40 miles from the Gulf of Mexico. But elsewhere in the state, rivers were returning to their banks and evacuees to their homes.

The prolonged weather disturbance in the Gulf Coast brought rains as far inland as Oklahoma and Kansas. Scattered thunderstorms swept from central Texas along the coast to Florida.

A cool air mass over the northeastern quarter of the nation extended into Kentucky and North Carolina and sent temperatures plunging into the 30s from the Great Lakes to New England.

Couple Indicted For Bank Robbery

SPRINGFIELD — William Green, 23, and his wife, Margaret, 22, were indicted in Federal Court here Thursday for the robbery of the Fairview State Bank last month.

Green and his wife left their three small children with a baby sitter to make the robbery attempt. About $3,000 was taken in the holdup, but the Greens were captured less than an hour later at a roadblock.

Green a $65-a-week factory employee, told authorities his paycheck "just wasn't enough," and he had to have money to pay his debts.

The couple will be arraigned here May 10.

Firemen said the family had no insurance.

Churchill Condemns UN Suez Attitude

LONDON — Sir Winston Churchill today condemned the United Nations for its attitude over the Suez crisis and said those who attacked Britain and France last fall may have reason now to reconsider their opinions.

In his first political speech in a year, Churchill said the country and the Conservative Party "owed gratitude to Sir Anthony Eden."

Bob Hoffmeister

.... 250 miners and a million tons of coal

Bob Hoffmeister buys coal for Central Illinois Public Service Company power stations at Grand Tower, Meredosia and Hutoonville. The hungry furnaces at these busy stations consume more than a million tons a year... enough to keep 250 Illinois miners working the year round.

No other industry in Illinois has done more to bolster the economy of the coal producing areas than the electric utility industry. CIPS alone spends more than $3,500,000 a year for coal. Another million and a half dollars is paid the railroads to move this vital fuel from the mines to the generating stations.

CIPS will spend $22,000,000 on new construction in 1957. This is part of a multi-million dollar expansion to build ahead for the increasing use of modern, convenient electric service. As this expansion continues, purchases of coal and other materials and supplies will be increased. This means more money in circulation... more payroll dollars... better living for everyone.

ONE PENNY'S WORTH OF ELECTRICITY will power your portable electric saw long enough to saw 56 pieces of lumber. What else that you buy today does so much... costs so little?

The Rare Adventure
by BERNARD FERGUSSON

Copyright 1954 by Bernard Edward Fergusson. Distributed by MCA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Ordered not to discuss politics with the natives, Allan and Mollie Laro now find they are in the center of intrigue on the island of Seknou, where a Scottish relative lived as a pirate two centuries ago. Father Paleologue, who befriended them, has intercepted them as they plan to tour the island and ordered them to return to the gendarmerie.

XI

Allan was beginning to get annoyed. "Now, Father Paleologue, please listen. We have been asked to lunch at Clusium. We don't particularly want to go, but we have accepted a kind and pressing invitation. And unless you tell us a good reason for not going, I'm afraid we shall have to."

And Paleologue led Allan away by the elbow, a few yards out of earshot from Mollie.

"Since you press me, mon Colonel, the trouble which we have been expecting has begun. There is no communication with Nail now; it was cut this morning, but not before we had heard of serious fighting there. The crowds are gathering already in Seknou. And both Captain Billon and I have information that Madame Laro and you are to be kidnapped this afternoon. To show you that I know what I say, I tell you the name of him who has invited you is Camille Fernana."

Mollie had already got out of the taxi and joined them, determined not to be left out of the talk. "Camille Fernana!" said Allan. "What relation is he of the chap at the hotel?"

"They are brothers, Captain Billon thinks that you knew all along who these people were. I assured him that you did not. He wished me to tell you that the British Consul-General wished to speak to you urgently on the telephone. He thought that it was the one way of being certain that you would come back."

"But why should they want to kidnap us?" asked Allan incredulously.

Paleologue looked at him quizzically.

"I believe," he said, "what Captain Billon would never believe. I believe that you do not know. I will tell you as soon as we are safely back at Seknou; and you must leave the hotel."

"We'll come," said Mollie. As they got nearer, the town seemed to be much as they had left it; there was no noise of shooting, no column of smoke rising from pillaged buildings.

It was not until they had actually reached the group of European buildings on the south side of the town that he began to change his mind again. For in front of the gendarmerie there were half a dozen armed native police wearing steel helmets of the French army type.

The entrance to the hotel was 80 yards short of the gendarmerie. The taxi driver and the escort had ceased their chatter when they saw the sentries, and were staring at them, but the driver reacted to Allan's tap on his shoulder, pulled up to let the escort off, and then drove across the road to the hotel gate.

"Stay in the taxi, Mollie," said Allan, "until I make sure that all's clear."

His call came in a moment, and Mollie joined him in the door where Fernana had welcomed them 48 hours earlier. The tables in the dining room were laid for luncheon, and the bar was open; but there was no sign of a waiter, nor Fernana himself. They pushed through into the kitchen. Fires were burning, and preparations for a meal were in evidence, but there was nobody there and nothing cooking.

Their rooms were undisturbed. Their beds had been made, and everything was neat and tidy. "Like the Marie Celeste," as Allan said, "only wasn't dinner ready in the Marie Celeste? I believe it was." They packed, all except some garments which had been taken away to be washed and hadn't come back; but the jewelry was there, the field glasses were there; nothing was missing.

They were just reaching the Gendarmerie when Paleologue's Citroen arrived.

They waited for the little man, who stepped out of his car, and began thanking them profusely for having acquiesced in his injunctions.

"I am most grateful to you, mon Colonel, and to you, Madame, for having resolved my difficulty with such courtesy."

"Did you give our apologies to Monsieur Camille?" asked Mollie. Paleologue beamed.

"I did. And he was not at all pleased. At first I thought he was going to shoot me."

"What did he say?"

"He said nothing at all to me. And no polite messages for you, Madame, nor for you, Colonel. He said some gross things to himself after a moment, and then he got into his car and drove off toward Clusium. I am quite sure that if you had been there you would have agreed with Captain Billon and me, that there was something short of ordinary hospitality."

They entered the Gendarmerie all together, Paleologue leading the way, with copious apologies, past some whitewashed stairs with iron bannisters and into an office beyond. There Billon was sitting working at a process which Allan recognized as the deciphering of a signal. Then he cocked his head back, and looked at Paleologue, who said swiftly in French.

"Monsieur and Madame were good enough to return to Seknou on the strength of your request alone."

Questions Discussed
At Ledford Bible Study

Some of the questions which arose in the Wednesday night Bible study at the Ledford Primitive Baptist church were: How did Joseph travel into Egypt? Did he come back by land or by boat over the Mediterranean sea? Could he have turned aside into the parts of Galilee if he had come back by land? Why was there a weeping mother instead of any of the other wives of Jacob? Was Jesus called a Nazarene solely because He dwelt in Nazareth?

Many questions, some of them very perplexing ones, arise at these meetings.

The public is invited.

Bill Vetted by Gov. Stratton

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton vetoed a bill which would have exempted the value of trade-in property from the state use tax.

The proposed law would be unconstitutional, he said.

The 2 1/2 per cent use tax on out-of-state purchases was drawn to parallel the state sales tax, and recently was upheld by the state Supreme Court. The sales tax does exempt trade-in values, on the theory that the tax was paid on the property when it was purchased the first time.

Stratton, however, cited an attorney general's opinion holding that a similar exemption in the use tax would violate the uniformity requirement of the state constitution.

Scout Pact 13 To Hold Carter Night in June

Scout pack 13 held its monthly meeting at the Christian church Tuesday evening. During the business meeting, announcement was made of Charter Night to be held June 9 at 7:30 in the church. Parents and scouts are urged to attend.

All boys 11 years old may apply for membership in Troop 13. This troop will go to Little Grassy camp this summer.

The theme for the past month was "Fire Prevention." Some of the dens plan to visit the fire station. Den 2 sang the "Smoky Bear Song," and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coker were in charge of recreation.

Awards were presented as follows: Wolf Gold Arrow Points, Rex Barnett, Joe Pearson, Rick Parker and Billy DeVar; Wolf Silver Arrow Points, Rex Barnett; Bobcat Badge, Joe Pearson; Bear Badge, Richard Coker and Charles DeGiacinto; Bear Arrow Point, Charles DeGiacinto; two Bear Silver Arrow Points, Charles DeGiacinto; Lion Badge, John Mugge; First year service stars were awarded to: Glenn Daugherty, Gerald Businaro, Richard Coker, Charles DeGiacinto, John Mugge, Daren Crabb, Robert Gideumb, Rick Parker, Mike Boldorff, Billy DeVar, Michael Brown, Kurt Feazel, Larry Riegel and Bruce Keltner. Second year service stars were awarded to Bruce Keltner.

Teen Town Notes

Dear Teen-Towners:

May! What a month! The prom — graduation — parties — sunshine — class rings — the Keystone — and, oh, yes, final exams — (gag).

First though, we have to have a little review of April.

Most important of all, we have new Senior board officers who were elected April 25. Louis Murphy, is our new chairman, Mrs. Charles Ford Jr., vice-chairman, Mrs. Guy Tanner, treasurer, and Mrs. Gordon McGehee, secretary.

It was voted that the girls would be allowed to wear slacks and Bermuda shorts to Teen Town, hooray! All of the new Junior board officers were present. Be sure to let Lou Murphy know we're ready to help.

We can add four more names to our list of "Sweetheart's of Teen Town." They are our retiring senior board officers, Mrs. Rude, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Bottomley, and Mrs. Rushing. Thanks to all of you.

We have heard that there are some friends who would like to chaperone at the Pent House but have not been called on yet Mrs. Hill would be happy to have a list of these people to use as fill-ins. Please call her at 543.

Naturally, I have to mention our band tour to New Orleans. Practically every one on the trip was a Teen Town member!

Everyone seemed to have a perfect time and we all agreed with Charlie Dabney when he said, "I could have stayed another week!" Do you know that lots of the gang had never been on a train? The chaperones report that they have recovered and that there were no casualties — everyone made all the tours and the train on time — and since our mothers nearly fainted when they saw the dark circles under our eyes when we got home, you can see that we wasted little time sleeping.

Wonder if everyone noticed, as I did, that the adults all said the same thing when they heard about our trip? The remark every time was, "Wish we could have done things like that when I went to school. You're a lucky bunch of kids."

You know what? Could be! Thank you, Mr. Cothran, Mr. Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Parkhurst and Mrs. Lenisch. We'll always remember —

GUESS WHO:

--- carried a treasure map of the U. S. and planned to find pirate's gold in New Orleans. (J. B.)
--- called her boy - friend every night and wouldn't go out of the hotel at night? Ah, Spring! (M. F.)

--- got a little home - sick? (?)
--- told her mother she would take a banana in her picnic lunch on the train because she could eat it and then throw the peeling out of the window? (J. C.) (Boy, it was time some of us took a train trip!)

--- missed the train at Memphis and had to fly to meet the train? (M. C.) (Just a rumor --)

--- telephoned home and said, "Mother, have you any IDEA how much it costs for eight of us to eat at Diamond Jim's?" (L. R.)
--- met the Mayor of New Orleans? (eight of us)

--- got a report in the middle of the night that a bucket of water was thrown out of the hotel window? (M. C.) (Not us, though, upon investigation.)

GUESS WHAT

--- High school group was picked as the neatest dressed, most poised, and best behaved, by the manager of the DeSoto Hotel, where from 2,500 to 3,000 children are entertained each year on school tours? The H. T. H. S. group, natch, and Mr. Cothran said that he was proud of all of us. We were proud, too.

Well, I guess that's all I have to say this time. Oh, well, let's face it -- "women never have the last word. They always have a million left." (Wonder how much space Mr. Small would really give us?)

See you at the Pent House, naturally.

Wildcat Hitters Beat Galatia, 18-2

Carrier Mills sprayed hits all over the Galatia baseball diamond Thursday afternoon and raced to an 18-2 decision.

The offerings of D. Woolard and Hankins were touched for 18 safe blows by the 'Cat batters with Collins leading the way with four for four, including a triple. Cowger had three hits, including a double. Others collecting safe hits for CM were VanHoy, Mitchell, Smith, Davis, Rollins and Manier.

Owens, J. Woolard, Bond and Hankins each had a hit for Galatia.

Carrier Mills plays three games away from home next week—at Metropolis Monday under the lights at 7:30, at Harrisburg Wednesday and at McLeansboro Friday.

Giants Sell Hurler Surkont

NEW YORK AP — Max Surkont, 34-year-old veteran right hander, was sold by the New York Giants today to their Minneapolis farm club of the American Association.

Surkont had appeared in five games this season for the Giants, all in relief, and had suffered one defeat. He had allowed seven runs in 6 1-3 innings.

The stocky pitcher broke into the major leagues with the Chicago White Sox in 1949, played with the Boston and Milwaukee Braves from 1950 through 1953, with Pittsburgh in 1954, and 1955, and last year played with Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League before coming to the Giants.

Big Car Auto Racing Sunday At Fairgrounds

Big car automobile racing is scheduled for the Saline County Fairgrounds track Sunday, May 5, with four former champions expected to start their bids for another championship season.

Time trials will get underway at 12:30 p. m. and for the remainder of the afternoon there will be action galore to please racing fans.

Rocky Williams, three-time champion, heads the list of top notch drivers. Williams, champion in 1948, 1950 and 1956, is expected to drive an Arter Engineering Special Sunday. He owns a fabulously fast DeSoto V-8, but it may not be ready for Sunday, but the Arter is said to be quite a racer and the fans will enjoy it.

Other champions to appear in Harrisburg Sunday are Jerry Blundy, 1951 and 1952; Vic Watson, 1953 and 1955, and the 1954 winner, Ray Blinstrup. Blundy will drive the black and white "11". The car has added fuel injection this season and may be just what Blundy needs to claim another championship. He is considered one of the finest dirt track drivers in the Midwest, having experience in both big cars and stocks.

Vic Watson, the '53 and '55 champion, did very little big car racing last year, but was a leading driver on the midwest circuits. He states the short tracks gave him some needed experience on the curves and he is now ready to go again in the big car class. He probably will drive the Kirby Bros. Krasek D. O., a sleek, modern car with very powerful motor.

Hank Strube, another serious contender for the 1957 title, will be driving the Dobson Dryer No. 52, the car that won the championship in 1952 with Jerry Blundy at the wheel. Strube thinks it will repeat for him.

Other big name drivers listed to appear on Sunday's racing program include Duke Hindahl, Bill Allen, Paul Dorsie, Don Hindahl, Jim Strube, Doug Malm, Keith Sapp, Tuck Dowell, Frank Wright, Ross Roseman and others.

Admission for the afternoon of racing, starting at 12:30 Sunday, is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. Parking is free.

Hitting Practice Sunday for Coal Belt, Junior Legion Teams

All boys interested in playing with the Coal Belt League or Junior American Legion teams in Harrisburg this season are requested to come to the VFW baseball park Sunday afternoon for hitting practice.

Machen-Maxim Bout Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. AP — Young Eddie Machen, confident that what he did once he can do again, takes on aging Joey Maxim tonight in an effort to establish his claim to a shot at the world heavyweight title.

The nationally-televised Derby eve 10-rounder is a repeat of a January joust in Miami, in which Machen not only dethroned the 35-year-old former light heavy king but became one of the few men who ever knocked Maxim down. Machen is a 3 1/2-1 favorite for the return fight.

Machen, at 25, has climbed to No. 2 ranking among the heavyweight contenders in a brief career that includes 20 victories in as many fights, 14 of them by knockouts.

For Maxim, the return match represented a last chance to earn one more big purse before he calls it quits on a 22-year career. He and manager Jack Kearns figure that a victory over Machen would earn Maxim a title bout with Floyd Patterson and a probable payoff of about $100,000.

Roberts Hurls 3-Hitter as Phils Beat Cubs, 4-2; Cards Trip Dodgers in 16 Innings

By United Press

It's plain today those obituaries of Robin Roberts' demise as a star pitcher were somewhat premature.

Three straight losses this year on top of last season's so-so 19-18 record had the experts counting Robin "out," but the burly Philadelphia Phillies' right hander proved Thursday night he's still "got it" with a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in which he allowed only three hits and struck out 13. The strikeout total was the highest of Robin's personal career and established a major league high for the current campaign.

Roberts, who had a 4.33 earned run average after losing his first three starts, retired the first 12 batters to face him and struck out six of them. Dale Long, acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday, broke the spell with a homer in the fifth and Lee Walls, obtained in the same trade, knocked in Chicago's other run with a triple in the seventh.

The Milwaukee Braves took a two-game hold on first place with an 8-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals scored a 3-2 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in a four-hour and 45-minute, 16-inning marathon and the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the New York Giants, 9-7, in the other National League games.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox made it 10 victories in 12 games with a 6-1 decision over the Washington Senators, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-1, and the Detroit Tigers downed the Boston Red Sox, 7-5. Baltimore and Cleveland were idle.

A 10th-inning error by Pittsburgh shortstop Gene Baker, obtained in the deal with the Cubs, set up a three-run rally that carried the Braves to their 11th win in 13 games. Hank Aaron had five hits in six tries as Lew Burdette won his third game of the year with relief aid from Red Murff. Johnny Powers tied the game in the ninth with a three-run pinch-hit homer.

Don Blasingame singled home Eddie Miksis in the 16th to give the Cardinals their marathon win over Brooklyn and their fifth consecutive triumph. Herman Wehmeier went the first 12 innings for the Cardinals before giving way to winner Larry Jackson.

Hoak Sparks' Redlegs

Don Hoak, who set a major league mark by striking out six times a year ago May 2, drove in five runs with four hits in Cincinnati's third straight victory. Hoak's fourth hit, a single through a drawn-in infield, knocked in the two ninth-inning runs that gave the Redlegs the decision.

Walt Dropo's grand-slam homer was the big blow for the White Sox as Dick Donovan went the distance with a five-hitter for his first win. Dropo's blow came after a homer by Roy Sievers produced a 1-1 second-inning tie and dealt Chuck Stobbs his fourth straight loss of the year.

SIU Athletic Director, Head Trainer Quit

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University officials announced today the resignations of Athletic Director Carl E. Trickson and Head Trainer Gordon Herwig.

Erickson, who has been athletic director at Southern since February, 1954, will become director of health, physical education, and athletics at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, Aug. 1.

Herwig, who came to SIU last September after serving seven years as head trainer at Montana State College, is resigning to become the head of a new physical therapy department at the 300-bed Bozeman Deaconess Hospital, Bozeman, Mont., beginning July 1.

A former Boston University football star, Erickson served as director of health and physical education programs at schools in Dedham, Mass., Old Town, Maine, Portsmouth, N. H., and Arlington, Mass. before coming to SIU. He received his bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degrees from Boston University.

While in college, Erickson was a standout baseball player, receiving bids from two major league clubs. He served as business manager of the Boston University Athletic Department while completing his doctorate. He's a veteran of three years naval service during World War II.

An associate professor at SIU, Erickson will receive the rank of a full professor at Kent.

Herwig, a graduate of Bowling Green (O.) University, taught at Point Place School and Waite High School at Toledo, O., before joining the Montana State College staff in 1949. He received his physical therapy training at Stanford University.
